FROM "POEMS OF CHILDHOOD"
My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky;
So was it when my life began,
So is it now, I am a man;
So be it when I shall grow old,
Or let me die!

Miss Osborne's Book. Adopted by Oklahoma.
Seven state educational officials were the guests of Miss Lena Osborne, supervisor of domestic science in the high school, at an elaborate seven-course dinner Thursday noon. The dinner was prepared and served by the members of the senior domestic science class.

A color scheme of red and green was carried out in the dinner. A large basket of sweet peas formed the centerpiece. The dining room of the domestic science department where the dinner was served was darkened and the glass electrolux threw a shower of soft light over the party.

Following the dinner it was announced that the board had decided to adopt Miss Osborne's book on domestic science as a text book in all the public schools of Oklahoma. It will be used for the first two years' work of domestic science for a period of at least five years. The book was recently adopted as a text by the public school officials of Boston, Mass.—Oklahomen.

Brisendine's Albright.
The Ft. Smith American, of Thursday, has the following account of the wedding of Guy Brisendine, a former Guthrie boy, at Ft. Smith: "St. John's Episcopal church was the scene of an extremely pretty wedding Wednesday at 5 o'clock, when Miss Gladys Albright, only child of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Albright, became the bride of Mr. Guy S. Brisendine of St. Louis. In accordance with the wishes of the bride, all arrangements were in delightful simplicity. The altar and chancel were decorated in vases of spring roses and fern, and on each side of the altar rail were tall brass vases filled with American Beauty roses. Before the ceremony, 'O Promise Me' was sung by Mr. Froebel Lee, accompanied by Miss Marie Ballman, who also played the wedding march. Lohengrin's bridal chorus announced the coming of the bride who was preceded by her cousin, Miss Dorothy Mowen, an maid-of-honor. Miss Mowen wore a becoming frock of rose-colored silk net with a coat of silk and her flower-covered hat held streamers of green velvet ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of Russell roses. The bride approached the altar with her father and they were awaited by the groom and his brother, Glen, Brisendine, of Newton, Kansas. The bride, a petite blonde, wore her traveling suit of blue gabardine, braided and trimmed, and her shepherdess collar was quite becoming. Her carriage bouquet was of lavender sweet peas. Reverend Edwin Francis Wilson read the impressive marriage service of the Episcopal church, and immediately afterward Mr. and Mrs. Brisendine left on a wedding tour after which they will reside in St. Louis where the groom recently moved from Paducah, Ky. This wedding taken from Fort Smith another of her most popular girls. Mrs. Brisendine is an accomplished vocalist and dancer and she will be sorely missed by the older and younger sets alike, as she was always one of the most vivacious and attractive girls in society.
